

Postpartum Preparation Planner

A practical, calming workbook to help you prepare for life after birth—at home, with your support team, and one day at a time.

MY POSTPARTUM PLAN

Name: _____

Estimated Due Date: _____

Baby's Name / Nickname: _____

Planned Birth Location: _____

Postpartum recovery and newborn care are different for every family. Use this planner to organize practical details, identify support, and prepare questions for your healthcare team.

How to Use This Planner

Complete the sectionsthatareusefultoyoubeforeyour due date. Review your plan with your healthcare team and update it as your needs or circumstances change.

Helpful reminders

- Ask your healthcare team what recovery information applies to your individual situation.
- Keep important contacts easy to access.
- Plan who can help with meals, household tasks, transportation, and baby care.
- Prepare a comfortable area where you can rest and keep essentials nearby.
- Your needs may change from day to day; flexibility is part of the plan.
- This planner is an organizational tool, not medical advice.

My first thoughts about postpartum

My Postpartum Priorities

What Matters Most to Me	Support I Would Like
■ Rest and recovery	■ Practical help at home
■ Feeling supported	■ Emotional encouragement
■ Simple meals and hydration	■ Meal support
■ Time to bond with my baby	■ Help with errands
■ Clear communication with my care team	■ Protected rest time

My personal priorities

My Support Team

Primary Support Person	Additional Support
■ Name: _____	■ Name: _____
■ Relationship: _____	■ Relationship: _____
■ Phone: _____	■ Phone: _____
■ Best way to help me: _____	■ Best way to help: _____

Ways people can help

- Prepare or deliver meals
- Help with household tasks
- Pick up groceries or supplies
- Help with transportation
- Care for older children or pets
- Provide company or encouragement
- Other: _____

Home Preparation Checklist

Rest & Recovery Area	Baby Care Area
■ Comfortable place to rest	■ Diapers available
■ Water bottle nearby	■ Wipes or other cleaning supplies
■ Easy access to snacks	■ Burp cloths available
■ Phone charger nearby	■ Baby clothing organized
■ Comfortable clothing	■ Safe sleep space prepared

Before Baby Arrives

- Organize essential baby items.
- Prepare frequently used supplies where they are easy to reach.
- Set up a simple laundry plan.
- Stock basic household supplies.
- Prepare a place for important paperwork.
- Write down helpful phone numbers.

Postpartum Essentials Checklist

For Mom

- Comfortable clothing
- Personal hygiene supplies
- Easy-to-reach water bottle
- Easy-to-eat snacks
- Phone and charger
- Any personal items recommended by my healthcare team
- Other: _____

For Baby

- Diapers
- Wipes or other cleaning supplies
- Clothing
- Burp cloths
- Safe sleep space
- Feeding supplies based on my feeding plan
- Other: _____

Meals & Household Plan

A simple plan can reduce the number of decisions you need to make while you are settling into life with a newborn.

Meal Planning	Household Support
■ Freezer meals	■ Laundry
■ Easy breakfast options	■ Dishes
■ Simple lunch options	■ Cleaning
■ Simple dinner options	■ Groceries
■ Healthy snacks	■ Trash / recycling

Meal ideas and household notes

Rest & Recovery Plan

Recovery looks different for each person. Use this page to identify realistic ways to create opportunities for rest and support.

My rest plan

- I will ask for help when I need it.
- I will keep frequently used items within easy reach.
- I will identify people I can contact for practical help.
- I will give myself permission to adjust plans.
- I will discuss recovery questions with my healthcare team.

Emotional & Mental Well-Being Plan

The postpartum period can bring many emotions. Use this page to identify people you trust and ways you would like support. If you are concerned about how you are feeling, talk with a qualified healthcare professional.

My support plan

- People I feel comfortable talking with
- Signs that I may need extra support
- How I would like someone to check in with me
- Who I can contact if I am struggling
- Questions I want to ask my healthcare team

Healthcare & Follow-Up Planner

Questions I want to remember

- What should I expect during recovery?
- Which symptoms or concerns should prompt me to contact my healthcare team?
- Who should I call with questions?
- What follow-up care should I plan for?

Baby Care Organization

Use this section to organize everyday baby-care information and questions. Follow guidance from your baby's healthcare professional for your individual situation.

Daily Essentials	Information to Keep Handy
■ Diapers	■ Healthcare provider contact
■ Feeding supplies	■ Feeding notes
■ Clothing	■ Appointment information
■ Burp cloths	■ Emergency contact information
■ Baby care supplies	■ Other: _____

Feeding & Supplies Plan

Feeding choices are personal and may change. Use this page to record your current plan and practical supplies. Ask your healthcare team for individualized feeding guidance.

My current feeding plan

- Breastfeeding
- Formula feeding
- Combination feeding
- I am undecided and would like information
- Other: _____

Visitors & Boundaries

Decide in advance what will help you feel comfortable. Your plan can change after birth.

My preferences

- I would like to decide when visitors are welcome.
- I would like visitors to check with me before coming.
- I would like help limiting visit length when I need rest.
- I would like visitors to respect our household routines.
- I may change my preferences depending on how I am feeling.
- Other: _____

Communication & Privacy Plan

Communication	Privacy
■ Who may receive updates?	■ Who may visit?
■ Who should be contacted first?	■ Who may receive photos?
■ Who can speak for me if needed?	■ Social media preferences
■ Preferred communication method	■ Information I want kept private

Self-Care & Daily Routine

Keep this routine simple. The goal is to identify small, realistic actions that support your day.

Daily check-in and notes

Weekly Postpartum Check-In

This Week I Want to Remember	Planning Ahead
■ What felt manageable?	■ Appointments
■ What felt difficult?	■ Meals
■ Who helped me?	■ Household help
■ What do I need more of?	■ Baby supplies
	■ Personal time

Notes for next week

Important Information to Keep Handy

Contacts and important information

My Postpartum To-Do List

Before Baby Arrives

- Organize essential supplies
- Prepare a simple meal plan
- Confirm important contacts
- Discuss postpartum questions with my healthcare team
- Make a support plan
- Prepare a comfortable rest area

My Postpartum Plan at a Glance

Quick-reference summary

My Notes

Notes

My Notes

Notes

Final Postpartum Preparation Checklist

Ready-to-Go Checklist

- I have a practical support plan.
- I have organized important contacts.
- I have prepared basic supplies for myself and my baby.
- I have thought about meals and household help.
- I have written down questions for my healthcare team.
- I know who I can contact when I need support.
- I have considered my visitor and privacy preferences.
- I understand that my plan can change as my needs change.

A Gentle Reminder

You do not have to have everything perfectly organized. A useful postpartum plan is one that can adapt. Accept help, communicate your needs, and give yourself time to adjust to this new chapter.

Medical Disclaimer

This planner is intended for personal organization and communication. It is not medical advice and does not replace care from a qualified healthcare professional. Discuss your individual recovery, newborn care, symptoms, feeding questions, and follow-up needs with your healthcare team.