

Pregnancy Birth Prep

& Hospital Ready Planner

PLAN • PREPARE • PACK • COMMUNICATE

Start

Here

A simple system for turning “I should probably get ready” into a clear, manageable plan.

How to use this planner

- Fill in your key dates and contact details first.
- Use the preparation checklists to decide what still needs attention.
- Pack by category instead of trying to remember everything at once.
- Use the birth preferences pages to organize questions, priorities, and communication.
- Review the final-ready pages with your partner or support person if you have one.

Important note

This planner is an organizational and reflection tool. Birth preferences, hospital policies, and available options can vary. Nothing here replaces individualized guidance from your qualified healthcare professional or your chosen birth facility. If circumstances change, your care team can help you make decisions appropriate to your situation.

My intention for these final weeks

Birth Prep Dashboard

One dashboard to help you plan for everything that matters most.

Estimated due date

Birth facility / location

Primary care provider

Main support person

Preferred contact method

Other important date

Top priorities	Still to decide
■ Confirm key logistics	■ Items to purchase
■ Prepare documents	■ People to notify
■ Pack essential bags	■ Home tasks
■ Prepare baby's space	■ Questions for provider
■ Review questions	■ Birth preferences
■ Plan support	■ Other

This week's focus

Important Contacts

Keep the numbers and details you may want to reach quickly in one place.

Primary provider / practice
Birth facility / maternity unit
Main support person
Backup support person
Emergency contact
Childcare / pet care contact
Insurance / benefits contact
Other

Directions, parking, entry instructions, or other logistics

Key Dates & Milestones

Use this page for appointments, classes, tours, deadlines, and personal reminders.

Date	What it is	Action / reminder

What Still Needs to Be

Done A master list for the final stretch. Check it, schedule it, or delegate it.

■ Confirm where to go and how to enter the facility

■ Save important phone numbers

■ Review appointment questions

■ Gather important documents and information

■ Choose / confirm support arrangements

■ Prepare the main hospital bag

■ Prepare baby's bag

■ Prepare support person's bag

■ Set aside frequently needed toiletries

■ Prepare baby's sleeping area

■ Prepare a basic changing / diaper area

■ Wash or organize baby clothing as desired

■ Stock basic household essentials

■ Arrange pet / plant / childcare coverage if needed

■ Plan transportation

■ Share key logistics with support person

■ Review birth preferences

■ Create a final-week backup plan

■ Complete personal admin / work handoff tasks

■ Do a final home readiness check

Third-Trimester Prep: Home

Focus on reducing friction, not creating a perfect home.

Baby space	Household
☐ Sleeping area prepared	☐ Easy meals / groceries considered
☐ Basic clothing organized	☐ Basic toiletries stocked
☐ Diapering supplies grouped	☐ Laundry essentials available
☐ Feeding supplies grouped	☐ Trash / recycling plan considered
☐ Laundry plan considered	☐ Pet care plan considered
☐ Useful items easy to reach	☐ Important deliveries accounted for

Home tasks I want finished before baby arrives

Third-Trimester Prep: Personal & Admin

■ Review work / leave arrangements

■ Finish or delegate time-sensitive tasks

■ Organize important personal information

■ Confirm transportation plan

■ Confirm support-person availability

■ Make a short list of people to update

■ Prepare comfortable clothing / personal items

■ Set aside chargers and frequently used essentials

■ Create a simple “where things are” note for support person

■ Complete any personal errands that would make the first days easier

Things I can delegate

Things I want to simplify

Final-Weeks Preparation: Weeks 28–

32

- Review overall plan
- Start a running hospital-bag list
- Organize important documents
- Think through support arrangements
- Identify remaining home-prep tasks
- Write down questions for upcoming visits
- Review what you already own before buying more
- Choose a simple place for baby essentials

My notes / next actions

Final-Weeks Preparation: Weeks 33–

36

■Begin packing items you rarely use

■Review facility logistics

■Check support-person plan

■Finish major home-prep tasks

■Review birth preferences and questions

■Prepare documents / information folder

■Plan simple meals / household basics

■Do a “what am I still missing?” review

My notes / next actions

Final-Weeks Preparation: Weeks 37–40+

Weeks 37–40+

- Keep bags easy to grab
- Keep phone / charger accessible
- Review transportation plan
- Review support contacts
- Keep essential household items stocked
- Finish only the tasks that truly matter
- Make space for rest and flexibility
- Review final-ready checklist

My notes / next actions

Hospital / Birth Facility

Information

Record logistics you may want available when you are tired, busy, or handing information to someone else.

Facility name

Address

Main phone

Maternity / labor unit phone

Entrance / check-in location

Parking / arrival notes

What to bring / confirm

Other logistics

Questions I want to confirm with the facility

Appointments & Questions

Use one page per visit if useful. Bring questions, not assumptions.

Date

Provider / location

Visit purpose

Questions I want to ask

Answers / notes / follow-up items

Birth Preferences: My Priorities

A soothing reminder: Your list is just a list—not a promise that every preference will be possible.

Think about what matters most to you, what you would like to discuss with your care team, and where you feel comfortable staying flexible.

What matters most to me	I want to discuss
Feeling informed	Available comfort options
Having a support person involved	Communication preferences
A calm environment	Support-person role
Clear communication	Facility procedures
Privacy / personal space	What happens if plans change
Other	Other

My three biggest priorities

Birth Preferences: Environment & Support

- I would like to discuss who may be present.
- I would like to discuss how my support person can help.
- I would like to discuss privacy preferences.
- I would like to discuss lighting / sound / personal comfort preferences where available.
- I would like to discuss how updates and explanations are communicated.
- I would like to discuss who should be contacted and when.
- I would like to discuss how family / visitors will be handled if relevant.

What helps me feel calm, supported, and informed?

Birth Preferences:

Communication

Use this page to describe how you prefer information to be shared. Your care team can explain what is appropriate and available in your situation.

- Explain what is happening before a non-urgent step when possible
- Give me time to ask questions when circumstances allow
- Include my support person in explanations when appropriate
- Use plain language
- Tell me what has changed and why
- Help me understand available options
- Other communication preference

Words, phrases, or communication details I want my support person to know

Birth Preferences: Comfort & Coping

List comfort approaches you would like to discuss with your care team. Availability and suitability can depend on your facility and clinical circumstances.

- Breathing / relaxation techniques
- Movement or position changes
- Music / calming audio
- Personal comfort items
- Massage / touch from support person
- Quiet time / reduced stimulation
- Other comfort preferences to discuss

What I want my support person to try first

Questions for my care team

If Plans

Change

Write down the information and support you would want if your original preferences need to change. This page is about communication and preparedness—not predicting what will happen.

- I want my support person to help me stay calm and informed.
- I want clear explanations when circumstances change.
- I want to ask what options are available to me.
- I want to know which preferences can still be honored.
- I want my important priorities remembered where possible.
- I want space to ask questions before making non-urgent decisions when circumstances allow.

What I want my care team / support person to remember

Hospital Bag: For Me

☐ Comfortable clothing

☐ Going-home outfit

☐ Toiletries

☐ Hair / personal-care items

☐ Phone + charger

☐ Glasses / contacts supplies if applicable

☐ Comfort items

☐ Reusable water bottle or other personal item if desired

☐ Entertainment / headphones if desired

☐ Any personal items I know I will want

What I still need to add / confirm

Hospital Bag: For Baby

☒ Going-home outfit

☒ Weather-appropriate layer

☒ Diapers / supplies if needed

☒ Blanket or comfort item if desired

☒ Car-seat plan confirmed

☒ Extra outfit

☒ Small bag for used items

☒ Other facility-specific items

What I still need to add / confirm

Hospital Bag: For Partner / Support Person

☐ Change of clothes

☐ Toiletries

☐ Phone + charger

☐ Snacks / water

☐ Comfort items

☐ Important contact information

☐ Entertainment / headphones if desired

☐ Any facility-specific items

What I still need to add / confirm

Documents & Essentials

☐ Photo ID / identification as appropriate

☐ Insurance / benefits information if applicable

☐ Provider / facility contact information

☐ Medication / supplement information to discuss with care team

☐ Birth preferences / notes

☐ Phone + charger

☐ Keys / wallet

☐ Other important information

What I still need to add / confirm

Packing Tracker

Track what is packed, where it is, and what still needs attention.

Item / category	Need?	Packed?	Where?	Notes

Baby Arrival: Home Setup

Sleeping area	Changing / care area
☐ Space prepared	☐ Diaper supplies grouped
☐ Essential items grouped	☐ Wipes / cleaning supplies grouped
☐ Sheets / linens organized	☐ Clothing organized
☐ Night-time essentials easy to reach	☐ Laundry plan considered
☐ Plan feels simple and manageable	☐ Refill location decided

What would make the first week at home easier?

Baby Arrival: Feeding & Household

Prep

Feeding area	Household basics
☐ Comfortable place identified	☐ Easy meals considered
☐ Water / snacks plan considered	☐ Groceries / essentials stocked
☐ Supplies grouped	☐ Laundry basics available
☐ Night-time essentials considered	☐ Trash / cleaning basics available
☐ Support-person role discussed	☐ Important deliveries considered

My simple first-week household plan

Last 7 Days: Ready

List

■ Bags are easy to grab

■ Important documents / information are together

■ Phone and charger are easy to access

■ Support contacts are saved

■ Transportation plan is clear

■ Home basics are stocked

■ Baby essentials are organized

■ Support person knows the plan

■ Questions / preferences are written down

■ Anything non-essential can wait

Anything I want to remember this week

48-Hour Final

Checklist for a final review of the essentials.

Ready to go	Ready at home
☐ Main bag	☐ Baby space
☐ Baby bag	☐ Basic clothing
☐ Support bag	☐ Diapering area
☐ Documents	☐ Food / household basics
☐ Phone / charger	☐ Support arrangements
☐ Keys / wallet	☐ Pet / childcare plan
☐ Transportation plan	☐ Important contacts

Last-minute notes

Final Ready Check

Circle the items you need. You do not need every detail to be perfect.

PLAN

- | | |
|---|--|
| ☐ Key contacts saved | ☐ Facility logistics understood |
| ☐ Questions written down | ☐ Support plan clear |

PREPARE

- | | |
|---|--|
| ☐ Home basics ready | ☐ Baby essentials organized |
| ☐ Important documents together | ☐ Personal items ready |

PACK

- | | |
|--|--|
| ☐ My bag ready | ☐ Baby bag ready |
| ☐ Support bag ready | ☐ Bags easy to access |

COMMUNICATE

- | | |
|--|---|
| ☐ Preferences written | ☐ Support person briefed |
| ☐ Questions discussed | ☐ Flexibility considered |

What feels most reassuring right now?

Support Person

Brief

A quick handoff page for the person helping you.

My preferred name / how to address me

Important contact

Where the bags are

Where documents are

Who to contact

Home / pet / childcare plan

Things that help me feel supported

Other

What I want you to remember

Things I Want My Care Team to Know

Use this space for questions, preferences, personal context, or reminders you want to communicate. Keep medical decisions and individualized guidance with your qualified care team.

My notes

Notes & Brain

Dump

Notes

A Moment to Reflect Preparing for birth can involve logistics, emotions, anticipation, and uncertainty.

What am I looking forward to?

What support would feel meaningful to me?

What do I want to give myself permission to let go of?

You have a plan.
Now you can focus on what matters most:
taking the next useful step, staying flexible, and asking for the support you need.

This planner is designed for organization and reflection. It is not medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment. Birth plans and preferences may change based on your individual circumstances, facility policies, and clinical needs. Discuss questions and decisions with your qualified healthcare professional.

CalculateWell

Pregnancy • Women's Health • Practical Wellness Tools

Hub